

Black Rockfish

CARCASSES WANTED

You want the meat? I want the guts and bones!!!

Carefully filleted carcasses are needed for a master's thesis project estimating growth, length- and age-at-maturity, and egg production of Black Rockfish, Sebastes melanops. This research will inform regional population assessments and enhance our understanding of spawning activities and timelines.

If donating a carcass, ensure all internal organs are intact and keep carcasses on ice or frozen. Please report your catch promptly for pickup:

Madison Bargas
Oregon State University
p: (541) 351-8861
e: madison.bargas@oregonstate.edu

Please record and report the following information:

- ❖ date, location, and depth of capture
- ❖ gear and bait used, if applicable
- ❖ total length (tip of snout to end of tail)
- ❖ round/pre-filleted weight (lb & oz)

Oregon State University